

College Visits

There are several options when choosing to visit a college or university campus. You can contact the school's admissions department and schedule a private day, or can attend an organized junior or senior day with students from all over the country.

If you don't see a college you're interested in on this list, simply go to their website and see if they have any days available. All colleges on this list are in Kansas or the Kansas City, MO area. Remember to look at tuition closely when considering an out-of-state school. You can see tuition for any school on Xello by searching the school name.
