Have a Wonderful Winter Break

- * We are working to be sure assignments are complete before winter break.
- * We are having a $1 gift exchange in fourth grade. Please send in wrapped gifts by Friday. No food or candy please.

We wish you safe travels and sweet shared family time filled with lots of snappy music and yummy goodies.

Relax and enjoy the season.

See you in 2020!

Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Mullins, Mrs. Pleasant and Ms. Wilkie

Reading: Mrs. Hill

We will try and wrap up our biography projects in class this week. However, we will probably not finish our novel studies before break. If students wish to find a copy and read their novels over break, they are more than welcome to read ahead. Please make sure students are reading something over break. Remember, students love to have someone read to them so, find a family favorite and enjoy a peaceful evening of reading together.

Math: Mrs. Pleasant:

The Chapter 5 unit test on factors, multiples, patterns and graphing will be on December 19th. There are JXL lessons in student planners to help prepare for the test. Think Central, Chapter 5 is also a great resource for study.

Please take a minute to go over cumulative review problems missed with your student. These are sent home weekly. Thanks!

Virginia Studies: Ms. Mullins

We are starting our Daily History Reviews this week! Students will complete questions which we will check together in class and have a quiz when the week is done, (not this week, it's just a practice run.) This is to begin our review for SOL tests as we continue with our units. Students are also working on resources used in colonial Virginia, such as capital, human, and natural.
